A guide to your . . .

NEWBORN PHOTOSHOOT

What to Bring

A couple of outfits for your baby and any teddies and blankets you may want featured in your photos.

Before the Shoot

Feed your baby before you set off, ideally we want a content well fed baby!

Family Photos

You may want to bring along additional siblings, please let me know if this is the case prior to your babies photoshoot, it's helpful for me to know ages etc.

What should You Wear

If you would like photos with your baby then think about what colours you like to wear and coordinate with your partner, light colours always work best!

Newborn photographs are best taken in the first two weeks after birth when I can capture all those cute poses whilst they are still so tiny.

If you need to feed and change your baby
this is not a problem.

Allow 1.5 hours
for your photoshoot.

I have a range of props that we can use for your babies shoot but feel free to bring along anything you like.

If you have any specific ideas then please let me know prior to the shoot.
